MIDLAND MUSINGS:

This is one of our celery projects for science. We observed how the mass changed when we let the celery dry out, and then how it changed again when it soaked up water. We talked about how as the celery loses water, the vacuoles shrink and the size of the cells decrease. Then when it takes in water, the vacuoles enlarge therefore changing the mass of the celery as a whole. - Mrs. Frishman Developing passionate followers of Christ who love God and serve people.
